About Us

Vision Enterprises, with offices in Rochester, NY and Philadelphia, PA, is a theatre-based training firm specializing in providing development and consultation in leadership, sales, communication, team development, and customer care with training programs that produce immediate, measurable results for our clients.

Since 1994, Vision Enterprises has helped several hundred companies develop employees at all levels to improve their behavior, performance, productivity, and ultimately affect their bottom line in an incredibly positive way.

We work with corporations, not-for-profits, and government agencies nationwide and globally to customize programs that best meet their needs.

Our theatre-based training component sets us apart by combining training materials with live theatre to drive a point home for participants. Theatre-based training allows participants the opportunity to practice skills with actors in a comfortable, nurturing, learning environment. Comfortable and nurturing, yes, but the live theatre environment also encourages participants to take risks and stretch their scope of learning. This training style is proven to increase learning and retention and bring long-lasting results.

Our consulting expertise has been instrumental in helping our clients meet and exceed their goals. We work with contemporary workplace issues, and continue to be a key player in the continuous transformation in employees to keep our clients profitable and successful.

Our training programs produce business results, and we offer strength and stability to our clients because they know they can rely on the quality of our programs — both in content and in our creative delivery of theatre-based training.

With over 95% of our clients coming from referral and repeat business, our mission is to create long term business relationships with our clientele while making a positive impact on their business.
